1. Stunzi Project: The Stunzis would like the Town to discharge their mortgage of $15,000 from the first HUD loan (1994) they received from the Town. The Attorney for the Town, Janet Bliss, recommends the Town not discharge the mortgage until the Town secures an agreement from the Stunzis that they admit to noncompliance with the terms of the second HUD loan granted in 1998 in the amount of $5,039 and return the entire amount of that loan. The Stunzis are willing to discuss a partial noncompliance with regard to the second loan and would give back most but not the entire $5,039 loan. They maintain the two loans are not linked, they have complied with the terms of the first loan and the town is now obliged to discharge the mortgage without regard to any circumstances concerning the second loan. The Attorney for the Town, Janet Bliss, finds this unacceptable. The Stunzis have contacted the regional HUD Office in Buffalo and are preparing an appeal.
2. Evergreen Trailer Park Update: November 20, 2001 the Department of Health held an Administrative Tribunal for Charlies, owners of the Evergreen Mobil Home Park. They were fined $7,750 for five health law violations (absence of chlorination in the water supply, dangerous roads, abandoned trailers, no park manager, overflowing septic system). The Charlies were ordered to remedy the violations promptly and the DOH said they would examine the park on December 15 for compliance. If violations still exist at that time it is likely there will be further enforcement action. The Charlies appear to be interested in selling the park. At least four potential buyers have expressed an interest in the park.
